SUBJECT: 2009 Hurricane Preparedness Reminder

1. Purpose. To encourage the Job Corps community to continue to monitor current weather conditions and be prepared for pending tropical storms and hurricanes.

2. Background. Hurricanes are huge storms that can be up to 600 miles across and have sustained winds of up to 75–200 miles per hour. After a relatively quiet start to the 2009 hurricane season, which began on June 1st and runs through November 30th, there have been three named storms during the month of August. In accordance with Job Corps Policy and Requirements Handbook (PRH) Chapter 5, Section 5.20, R3, all Job Corps centers are required to prepare emergency response plans to address both natural and man-made disasters. Centers located in areas subject to the effects of tropical storms and hurricanes are reminded to continue to monitor national and local weather stations and to begin preparing for potentially hazardous weather conditions.

   Center operators, center directors, and safety officers should review existing plans to ensure that procedures are in place to address:

   a. pre-hurricane preparations;
   b. shelter-in-place;
c. center evacuation and closure;
d. state and local emergency response procedures; and
e. post-hurricane recovery.
