CONSENT FOR PRE-ENROLLMENT INTERVIEW

It may be necessary for you to talk with Job Corps center health staff and consultants about your health-care needs. Before you talk with Job Corps center health staff and consultants, we want to make sure you are aware of a few points.

- The center health staff and consultants that you may talk to, including doctors, nurses, mental-health providers, dentists, and alcohol and drug counselors, will ask you questions. These people are not acting as your health-care provider, but are helping to determine if Job Corps can meet your health-care needs. There is not a doctor/patient relationship.
- The information shared during this interview, along with information in your admissions packet and any records you provide, will help center health staff and consultants decide if Job Corps can meet your health care needs.
- Information shared during this interview may be shared with others on a need-to-know basis.

By signing below, you acknowledge that you understand the above information, and that you agree to a pre-enrollment interview.
